2 ESR OPERATOR: United States District
3 Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania is now
4 in session. The Honorable Jeffrey L. Schmehl 5 presiding.

6 THE COURT: Good morning, everyone.
7 We're here today for an oral argument in the case of,
8 I'll say, Magagnoli versus Wegmans, et al.

9 Will everybody please identify 10 themselves for the record and who they represent.

11 MR. MONGELUZZI: Robert Mongeluzzi and 12 Dave Kwass for the Plaintiffs Magagnolis.

13 MR. LEARY: Paul Leary for Defendant
14 Wegmans.

15 MR. GARTNER: And Francis Gartner for 16 Defendant Elizabeth Mardouchoc.

17 THE COURT: All right. It's my 18 understanding this case started in the Common Pleas
19 court of Philadelphia and it was removed by Defendant
20 Wegmans to federal court.

21 And now plaintiffs have filed a motion
22 to remand it back to Philadelphia --

23 MR. MONGELUZZI: Yes, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: -- or back to somewhere
25 else?

ARGUMENT - MR. MONGELUZZI

Page 5

1 MR. MONGELUZZI: Back to Philadelphia,
2 Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: All right. Then you have 4 the floor.

5 MR. MONGELUZZI: Thank you, Your Honor.
6 Robert Mongeluzzi, again, for the plaintiffs.

7 Defendant Wegmans has removed this case
8 based upon the alleged joinder or original suit
9 against the purchaser, Ms. Mardouchoc, of a Bird 10 Brain gel pot.

11 Your Honor, I have brought with us today
12 the packaging for the gel pot, and I believe that 13 there are photographs that have been attached to our 14 motion showing all the sizes.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, I'm kind of familiar
16 with the products. I mean, I don't -- you know.

17 MR. MONGELUZZI: Okay. Thank you, Your 18 Honor.

19 I --

20 THE COURT: I don't think
21 [indiscernible].

22 MR. MONGELUZZI: I show you the box
23 because the box and a portion of the gel pot are of 24 critical importance in deciding this motion to 25 remand.

1 We were able to find an exemplar gel pot
2 also made by Bird Brain which also comes with this 3 packaging, and on this packaging is clear warnings
4 and instructions as to how to safely use the product.

5 The packaging also indicates that the 6 product comes with a -- I will call it a lid snuffer.
7 And that's a lid that goes over the gel pot and then 8 suffocates the fire inside and is the most efficient 9 way to put out a gel pot, because you may not be able 10 to see it burning.

11 Our -- pardon my back, Your Honor.

12 Our clients got this as a gift. When 13 they received it as a gift, there was no box, and 14 there was no lid snuffer with it.

15 The issue in this case is, how did it 16 get in that condition, and who was responsible for 17 the failure to supply the Magagnolis with the box, 18 packaging, instructions, and lid snuffer? And that's 19 the issue that this -- that goes to the heart of this 20 case.

21 Now, we -- I'm going to start with the 22 law, Your Honor. Then I want to go into what we 23 believe the facts are and the legal standard under 24 which we have sued Ms. Mardouchoc.

25 The law is pretty clear that removal

1 statutes are to be strictly construed against removal 2 and all doubts should be resolved in favor of the 3 remand. And that's the Batoff case, 977 F.2d 848 at 4 851 (3d Cir. 1992).

5 The standard -- and party -- both 6 parties have briefed this -- is that joinder is 7 fraudulent when there is no reasonable basis or 8 colorable ground supporting the joined defendant or 9 no real intention in good faith to prosecute the 10 action against that defendant and seek that judgment.

11 That defendant, by the way,
12 Ms. Mardouchoc, has a homeowner's policy and is 13 defended by an attorney, and it has been and 14 continues to be our intention to prosecute this case 15 against her.

16 The defendant has the weighty burden of 17 establishing there's no reasonable basis or colorable 18 ground supporting the joined defendant. They cannot 19 do that because there are weighty reasons why we 20 joined this defendant and because there are facts 21 that still remain to be resolved which will be the 22 litigation battleground of this case.

23 The Batoff and Brisco [ph] case hold
24 that if there's even a possibility that a state court 25 would find that the Complaint states a cause of

1 action against any one of the resident defendants,
2 the federal court must find the joinder was proper.

3 And that is if there's even a
4 possibility, And I'm going to explain why it's beyond 5 a possibility but a probability, Your Honor.

6 They must establish that our claim is 7 wholly insubstantial and frivolous. The court must 8 focus on the plaintiffs' Complaint at the time the 9 petition for removal was filed and must assume as 10 true all of the allegations in the Complaint and 11 resolve any uncertainties as to the state of the 12 controlling substantive law in favor of the 13 plaintiff.

14 Plaintiffs' Complaint, Your Honor, sued
15 Ms. Magagnoli -- Ms. Mardouchoc and alleged -- excuse 16 me one second; let me get to it -- at 65C, giving the 17 firepot and firepot fuel gel to the plaintiffs 18 without the packaging and giving the firepot fuel gel 19 without ensuring that all proper warnings were 20 included.

21 It is plaintiffs' theory that 22 Ms. Mardouchoc bought the product with the packaging, 23 removed the gel pot from the box, and merely gave the 24 Magagnolis the gel pot without the essential safety 25 warnings that were contained in the box --

Page 9

1 THE COURT: There's nothing in that box,
2 right?

3 MR. MONGELUZZI: Correct, Your Honor.
4 We have the gel pot outside, but given the state of 5 security, we did not want to bring in a metal pot
6 with fuel inside. Although, if Your Honor wants it, 7 we can bring it in. It's out in one of the cars.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I'm looking at 9 the picture, and the flame is coming out of the top, 10 right?

11 MR. MONGELUZZI: Correct, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: So the snuff lid or whatever 13 you call it is probably, like, only the size of the 14 opening and goes over it?

15 MR. MONGELUZZI: Absolutely, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: All right.

17 MR. MONGELUZZI: And it has a little -- 18 Dave, it has a little handle?

19 MR. KWASS: Yes.

20 MR. MONGELUZZI: -- like a little handle
21 so you don't have to put your hand like this. It 22 looks like a pancake griddle, except it's round.

23 So that's plaintiffs' essential theory 24 of the case, that they didn't get the box and they 25 didn't get --

ARGUMENT - MR. KWASS

1 THE COURT: So what actually happened,
2 though? It was on, and somebody was trying it?

3 MR. MONGELUZZI: No. The -- I'll let 4 Dave describe the facts because he's -- if I may, 5 Your Honor. He's more intimate, and I don't want to 6 get the facts wrong.

7 THE COURT: All right.

8 MR. KWASS: Your Honor, Dave Kwass for 9 plaintiffs.

10 So this product was purchased at Wegmans 11 by Ms. Mardouchoc in May of 2011. It was gifted to 12 the Magagnolis just three days or so after that 13 purchase. It does not get used in the summer of 2011 14 by the Magagnolis. They use it in August of 2012 for 15 the first time, 15 months later.

16 And at that time, as Mr. Magagnoli is 17 attempting to use the -- a refill canister of fuel 18 gel to refill the canister cup that sits inside the 19 firepot itself --

20 THE COURT: Why would it have to be 21 refilled if it was never used?

22 MR. KWASS: Sorry. He had -- he was 23 using it that day for the first time --

24 THE COURT: So he was filling it, not 25 refilling it.

Page 11

1 MR. KWASS: He was refilling it, Your 2 Honor. So it had been filled once that day.

3 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

4 MR. KWASS: It had burned down.

5 THE COURT: All right. Got it.

6 MR. KWASS: And this is the problem with 7 the product. You can look inside of it, and it looks 8 as though there is no flame left.

9 And so as no flame -- as it appeared to 10 him that no flame was left, he then poured or 11 squirted fuel gel out of the refill container into 12 the firepot itself, and that's what caused the flash 13 fire that burned his son.

14 And because of the way in which the fuel
15 gel works, when the fire flames up, there's literally 16 gel that comes out of the firepot, and that makes it 17 very, very difficult to extinguish the flames.

18 So the flames get onto Baby Luca, and 19 his mother then -- then holds him, and the gel 20 transfers to her, burning her.

21 Does that answer the court's question?

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 MR. MONGELUZZI: So our theory against 24 Ms. Mardouchoc is that she gave the gel pot without 25 the snuff lid and without the box and that that was

1 causative of the accident.

2 At her deposition, she denied that. She 3 said, no, I bought it, and it was loose; it came 4 without a box; it came without a snuff lid.

5 Interestingly, we alleged against 6 Wegmans that they sold it to Ms. Mardouchoc -- and 7 this is at paragraph 69R -- that they sold and 8 supplied and distributed the firepot without its 9 packaging.

10 We pled alternatively, Your Honor, since 11 we didn't know who had failed to include the 12 packaging and the snuff lid.

13 Wegmans, in their Answer, denied that.
14 So the state of the record is Wegmans denies that 15 they didn't give her the packaging. Their answer is, 16 we deny that, meaning we did give her the packaging.

17 Ms. Mardouchoc says, I bought it, and it 18 didn't have the packaging.

19 Obviously, that is a material issue of 20 genuine fact and something that should not permit 21 this court to rule that the claim against her is 22 frivolous.

23 We have not yet had the opportunity to 24 depose Wegmans or the opportunity to depose Bird
25 Brain because we filed the motion to remand within 30

1 days of their removal petition, as we're required to 2 do so under the law.

3 I doubt that Wegmans is going to come in 4 and say -- although, perhaps, they might -- that yes, 5 the manufacturer, Bird Brain, manufactures this with 6 a box with critical safety information and with a 7 critical component, a lid snuffer, and we decided to 8 pull it out of the box and not give it to the 9 customers.

10 Maybe they are going to say that in the 11 future. Maybe they are not. But at this stage in 12 the litigation, the claim that our claim against 13 Ms. Mardouchoc is frivolous and was filed 14 fraudulently must fail.

15 There are multiple situations in which 16 Ms. Mardouchoc could be found responsible, and I just 17 wanted, if I might, Your Honor, to go through those 18 scenarios, because I want to establish that our claim 19 wasn't frivolous.

20 If Bird Brain manufactured and sold the 21 gel pot with the snuffer in the box to Wegmans and 22 Wegmans sold it in that condition to Ms. Mardouchoc 23 and then she withheld the box and the snuffer from 24 the plaintiffs, she would be responsible under 388.

25 Your Honor, once I go through these

1 scenarios, I'm just going to discuss 388 briefly and 2 why I believe all of these scenarios fit within 388.

3 So that's scenario number one, where 4 clearly, without question, Ms. Mardouchoc would be 5 negligent.

6 Use the same scenario; snuffer, box from 7 the manufacturer, Bird Brain, to Wegmans, Wegmans, 8 snuffer and box to her. This product was recalled in 9 between the time of its sale to Ms. Mardouchoc and 10 the accident.

11 She purchased this as a Wegmans --

12 Dave, what was the word? Best buy?
13 Didn't you tell me she had a card, a --

14 MR. KWASS: Oh, a rewards card.

15 MR. MONGELUZZI: A rewards card, Your 16 Honor, and there was evidence of that sale.

17 We do not know at this stage but we have 18 claimed in our Complaint issues regarding the recall.
19 Did Wegmans send a recall notice to Ms. Mardouchoc, 20 which she got and then never forwarded to the 21 plaintiffs? We don't know that, but it is alleged.

22 Or did Wegmans know about the recall, 23 which they tweeted about, had the information in 24 their computer files, and do nothing about it? We 25 don't have the answer to that question, but at this

1 stage, it's clear that we have not proceeded 2 frivolously.

3 Scenario number three -- Bird Brain
4 sells the gel box [sic] with the snuffer and box to 5 Wegmans, who then sells the gel box with the 6 snuffer -- or the gel pot with the snuffer in no box
7 to Ms. Mardouchoc, which is scenario number three.

8 At that point, Ms. Mardouchoc would have 9 the responsibility, even though she didn't get the 10 box, to at least give them the snuffer lid. That 11 would find her responsible. That's scenario number 12 three.

13 Use that same scenario and add in the 14 same recall issue as to whether or not she was told 15 that there was a recall and did nothing about it.
16 That's scenario number four.

17 Scenario number five, Bird Brain sells
18 the gel pot to Wegmans with the box but no snuffer, 19 and they -- Wegmans sells the gel pot with the box to 20 Ms. Mardouchoc, but she doesn't give the box to the 21 Magagnolis. That's scenario number five. She would 22 be responsible under that under 388.

23 Add on to that same set of facts the 24 recall issue. That brings us to scenario number six.

25 Let's go to scenario seven. Bird Brain

1 sells the gel pot with the snuffer but no box to 2 Wegmans. Wegmans sells the gel pot with the snuffer 3 to Ms. Magagnoli, but she only gifts the gel pot and 4 doesn't give them the snuffer. That's scenario 5 number seven.

6 If you add those same facts and the 7 recall issue, that's scenario number eight.

8 Scenario number nine, Bird Brain sells 9 the gel pot without the box and the snuffer to 10 Wegmans. Wegmans sells it to Mardouchoc in the same 11 condition, but they notify Ms. Mardouchoc of the 12 recall. That would still hold her responsible, 13 because she would have that specialized knowledge 14 that plaintiffs would not have.

15 The only potential scenario in which 16 they could claim that -- after discovery -- not at 17 this pleadings stage, but after discovery -- where 18 they could arguably argue that there would be no 19 claim is that if Bird Brain or Wegmans sells it to 20 Ms. Mardouchoc without the snuffer box, without -- 21 I'm sorry -- without the snuffer lid, without the 22 box, and doesn't advise her of the recall.

23 The defendant today could have come in 24 with affidavits to you, Your Honor, and said, despite 25 what was pled in the Complaint, we sold this without

1 a box; even though Bird Brain gave us the box, even 2 though it had safety instructions, we made a decision 3 we're going to sell products to our clients [sic]
4 without that critical safety information.

5 And, in addition, they could have had an 6 affidavit saying, and we -- we sold it without the 7 snuffer lid as well, and therefore, this woman -- and 8 by the way, when we knew that the product was 9 recalled, we intentionally didn't tell her either.

10 They could have come in with those 11 affidavits and said, you know what, Ms. Mardouchoc
12 really doesn't have any potential role in this case 13 because we didn't provide Ms. Mardouchoc with any of 14 the information.

15 Now, Ms. Mardouchoc testified that she 16 didn't get that information, but she is a party
17 opponent. She is on the other side. She testified, 18 quote, that I thought something was wrapped around it
19 when I bought it -- I want to be correct -- there 20 might have been something wrapped around the gel pot, 21 but I'm not sure. So her memory about that is 22 somewhat unclear.

23 We haven't gotten the information from 24 Bird Brain. We haven't gotten the information from 25 Wegmans. And I suspect, as has been pled in our

1 Complaint -- alternatively, I acknowledge -- that 2 we're going to find that they take the position that 3 they sold it with the appropriate box and lid to 4 Ms. Mardouchoc.

5 THE COURT: Is Mr. Leary representing 6 Bird Brain, or they don't have counsel, or they 7 don't -- are they out of business or what?

8 MR. LEARY: Yeah, they're -- they don't 9 counsel here.

10 THE COURT: Yet?

11 MR. LEARY: No, they don't have counsel
12 at all.

13 MR. MONGELUZZI: In the email exchange, 14 when Mr. Leary was questioning Mr. Kwass about what 15 our theories are and Mr. Kwass invited Mr. Leary to 16 say, okay, let's -- why don't you guys stipulate that 17 Ms. Mardouchoc didn't have anything to do with it, 18 why don't you stipulate that it came without the 19 warnings and the snuffer, he said -- and I'm reading 20 from his email -- I don't understand why her
21 dismissal is contingent on Wegmans agreeing that it 22 sold the gel pot to Ms. Mardouchoc without any 23 product packaging; I don't think dismissal should be 24 contingent on Wegmans agreeing that it will not 25 contend Mardouchoc failed to do anything in any way

1 that contributed to the accident.

2 So as counsel tried to work this out and 3 go over what the good-faith basis was, Wegmans'
4 attorney has taken the position that Wegmans won't 5 agree that Mardouchoc failed to do anything that in 6 any way contributed to the accident.

7 How could they claim that this is a
8 frivolous case against Mardouchoc when they will not 9 say themselves that she -- we won't say that she did 10 anything wrong; we -- we're going to come up and 11 stand up and say that.

12 In fact, they're playing a -- it's a
13 gamesmanship, where they intend to blame Mardouchoc, 14 point the finger of blame at Mardouchoc, and then 15 accuse us of frivolously suing her.

16 THE COURT: All right, Counsel. I
17 really do think I understand your point, and I think 18 I need to hear from the other side.

19 MR. MONGELUZZI: Thank you, Your Honor.
20 And I could elaborate on 388 and why her --

21 THE COURT: I will give you rebuttal if 22 I feel it's necessary.

23 MR. MONGELUZZI: Thank you, Your Honor.

24 MR. LEARY: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 Let me just make sure the record's

1 clear. Mr. Mongeluzzi wasn't at the deposition of 2 Ms. Mardouchoc, and I fear he may not have even read 3 her transcript, because, first of all, there isn't 4 one shred of evidence from her deposition testimony
5 to suggest that she did anything other than, on a 6 night when she was looking to get food and a possible 7 housewarming gift for her hairstylist friend,
8 Mr. Magagnoli, she came across a display of firepots.

9 And she took one off the shelf, she put 10 it in a bag, she left it at her house for two days, 11 and two days later, she left it at the home of the 12 Magagnolis as they were enjoying a housewarming 13 gift [sic].

14 There isn't a shred of evidence to 15 suggest that she took it, removed packaging, or had 16 any knowledge or any notice that there was a problem 17 with this.

18 He also claims that we're somehow taking 19 an alternative position. He cites to paragraph 69R, 20 I believe, about -- where they say selling, supplying 21 the firepot without packaging, and we denied it.
22 That's Count 4 to Bird Brain. That's not to us.
23 They didn't allege that against us. They haven't 24 alleged that against us. That's to Bird Brain.

25 And maybe Bird Brain did sell it to us

ARGUMENT - MR. LEARY

Page 21

1 without the packaging. We're not here -- that's not 2 the issue before the court. There's, frankly, two 3 issues, Your Honor.

4 First, given the information that we 5 received that we were entitled to explore and of 6 which this court can consider, there is no doubt that 7 there is no basis in law or fact to hold a claim 8 against Ms. Mardouchoc.

9 First, they presume that she was aware 10 that this product, when she bought it, should have 11 had packaging.

12 If you look at their Complaint, 66A
13 through D are out as a matter of law. Number one, 14 purchased the firepot without the packaging,
15 purchased it without ensuring all proper warnings
16 were included, giving the firepot to plaintiffs 17 without the packaging, giving the firepot without 18 ensuring all proper warnings were included.

19 That, under Restatement 388, is out the 20 door, Your Honor, and here's why. I cite to the case 21 of Lockett of which, of course, their response is 22 dead silent. They don't offer any case law except 23 for some cases from Minnesota.

24 And the Lockett case made clear, Your 25 Honor, a supplier of a chattel has no duty under

1 Section 388 to test or inspect or even make a cursory
2 examination to the existence or nonexistence of a 3 dangerous condition. 388 requires only that the 4 supplier warn of those dangers which he or she is 5 actually aware of.

6 That applies to me. That applies to 7 you, Your Honor. There is no obligation when you go, 8 as they -- their theory subscribes, that you should 9 go and look when you buy something to make sure that 10 before you gift it, it originally came with warnings 11 or that it has been properly tested to make sure it's 12 safe or to make sure that there is some basis upon 13 which you can provide that gift to someone else 14 knowing that it's not going to cause any harm.

15 That's their theory. So the first part,
16 Your Honor, goes out the door, the -- the whole duty 17 or obligation by Ms. Mardouchoc to be on notice that 18 when she walked in the store that day and said, hmm,
19 you know, this firepot should have something on it;
20 it's not there; I'm not going to buy it; I'm not 21 going to gift it, because I think there should be 22 something there. So those four duties go out the 23 door.

24 Then what remains? The only factual
25 predicate which is a matter of law for the court to

1 decide. Was there a shred of evidence that allows 2 the plaintiffs to suggest that Ms. Mardouchoc had 3 notice, that she should have been in a position when 4 she gifted it to the Magagnolis that, hey, there's -- 5 there could be a problem with this product.

6 And what we find, Your Honor, is that 7 Mr. Kwass, not Mr. Mongeluzzi, had every opportunity 8 at her deposition to test their theory. He covered 9 extensively her knowledge of firepots. None.
10 Covered extensively her prior purchases of firepots.
11 None. Covered extensively her -- her professional 12 career to assess maybe -- maybe you've done things in 13 the past that would have put you on notice to think, 14 this could be a dangerous product. None.

15 They actually then went into covering
16 all of her communications with Mr. Magagnoli for 15
17 months after it was gifted to determine at any point 18 maybe did Mr. Magagnoli say, hey, there's no snuffer; 19 hey, this thing -- I don't know how to put it out, or 20 this could be dangerous.

21 Not one ounce of evidence to suggest
22 anything that put her on notice that this product 23 either should have had warnings or the proper use of 24 it.

25 And, finally, of course, they go in and

1 test, did you look at Twitter? Did you look at X?
2 Did you look at Y? Did you receive notification from 3 Wegmans?

4 It's shocking that they're coming up
5 here and arguing today that possibly -- he gave you 6 nine scenarios. Those scenarios were eliminated by 7 the factual record. We're not here to talk about 8 guess and speculation.

9 I don't -- I -- I treat these very 10 seriously when I'm claiming that someone's been 11 fraudulently joined, and that's why we waited.

12 We didn't challenge this apparent
13 fraudulent joinder when the Complaint was filed. We 14 did the right thing. We tested to make sure that we 15 knew the factual predicates of 388 were satisfied.

16 They haven't satisfied any of them.
17 They haven't offered one fact in their brief, not 18 one. Even what he said today about the scenarios 19 isn't in their brief because they know they can't put 20 it into court.

21 They can't file that because Mr. Kwass
22 was there and looked her in the eye and even said, 23 how about Twitter; how about these news presses; how 24 about these recalls; how about Wegmans' recalls;
25 didn't you receive anything at all to say, I better

Page 25

1 call him; I better tell Mr. Magagnoli that there 2 might be an issue out here.

3 Absolutely nothing, Your Honor. There
4 is nothing in the record to support the other 5 requirement here.

6 The first is the duty as a matter of 7 law. You can rule on that. There is no basis to 8 force Ms. Mardouchoc to determine the history of a 9 product.

10 The only question that you have to 11 assess, Your Honor, is, did she have knowledge?

12 The four cases they cite from 1940 --

13 THE COURT: Well, knowledge of what?

14 MR. LEARY: Knowledge of anything about 15 the product, any potential whatsoever that this 16 product should have had warnings or should have been 17 operated a certain way.

18 THE COURT: Well, don't you know that?
19 Isn't that common sense? If I'd give you a propane 20 grill, I would know that it could explode.

21 MR. LEARY: So would Mr. Magagnoli.

22 THE COURT: Right.

23 MR. LEARY: There would be no need to 24 warn him. But here --

25 You raise an excellent point, of which

Page 26

1 they're dead silent on. How do you -- how do you
2 light this thing? How do you -- how do you light it?

3 You don't just put a match in. You
4 don't -- it just doesn't come up. What do you do?
5 You put a fuel source in. She bought the fuel source 6 with the box -- with the pot, bought the fuel source.

7 What does it say on there? The same
8 exact warnings, if not more. The fuel gel
9 container -- excuse me -- has all the warnings.

10 They admit they have it. They gave me
11 an exemplar.

12 So Mr. Magagnoli, in fact, did have the 13 information. He had -- everything that she purchased 14 she gave to him. Everything. So that was already 15 there, Your Honor.

16 I'll just touch on it just because I 17 find it just more indicative of their lack of any 18 support in this case. They throw four cases at Your 19 Honor from the 1940s from Minnesota and 20 Massachusetts. That's it. That's all they can 21 offer.

22 And those four cases all stand for the 23 one proposition that they can't prove in this case.
24 The defendant in every one of those cases had 25 specific knowledge of the danger of the product,

1 either because they had had prior experiences where 2 that -- that product had reared its defect or, more 3 importantly, the defendant was the manufacturer, the 4 defendant who made the product and then handed it off 5 and knew or should have known what the warnings are.

6 None of those facts here, Your Honor,
7 are present. So to sit here today and listen to 8 counsel shockingly talk about scenarios that could 9 have played out, in the face of an uncontroverted 10 record, Your Honor, in no way creates some type of 11 issue of fact.

12 And not surprisingly, they now, as an 13 alternative, claim that this may be a case of first 14 impression. I don't see how this is a case of first 15 impression at all. Courts have repeatedly assessed 16 any of the necessary factual predicates to proceeding 17 under Restatement 388 and, as a matter of law, have 18 ruled what a party's duty is.

19 So the duty issue, again, is easy.
20 That -- the duty part is done. They haven't 21 countered it. They have no case law support to 22 suggest that the day she bought it, she should have 23 pried a little bit, because that puts you in the same 24 position --

25 THE COURT: Well, what about the

Page 28

1 alternative theory, that Wegmans can come into court
2 and say they sold it to her with the box and the top?
3 So --

4 MR. LEARY: There's no contention at 5 all. That's their contention. We have never 6 contended that. We have never contended that we sold 7 it in a box and that it went out the door in a box.

8 It was on a shelf. It was on a display.
9 It came with the fuel gel container. The fuel gel 10 container clearly had all the warnings and 11 instructions.

12 So for them to try to create an issue of 13 fact is just completely wrong.

14 THE COURT: So you're saying you sold it
15 to her without a top on it?

16 MR. LEARY: We sold it to her as the 17 product was -- came off the shelf.

18 But even if we sold it without a top, 19 there's -- that's not the debate here. The debate is 20 whether Ms. Mardouchoc should have known it had -- 21 should have had a top.

22 Any of those facts, Your Honor, I -- I
23 grant it, fair game.

24 THE COURT: Wouldn't the same standard
25 be that there's absolutely no evidence against her?

Page 29

1 And if one defendant is saying something that could 2 lead to her culpability, then she'd be in the case --

3 MR. LEARY: There's --

4 THE COURT: -- and that would 5 [indiscernible].

6 MR. LEARY: Your Honor, there was no
7 need for Wegmans to produce an affidavit. There 8 wasn't one line of testimony that we ascertained, 9 either from the witness or from her -- her counsel, 10 was false. There was nothing in there that was 11 deemed to be false.

12 She bought the product. She's going to 13 be the person that's in the best position. She 14 bought it on the shelf, put it in a bag, and gave it 15 over. That's where the source here is, and that's 16 why she's been fraudulently joined.

17 And, again, we waited, Your Honor, to 18 make sure we had that extrinsic evidence, to make 19 sure that we tested to say, hey, maybe there's a 20 debate, maybe she had an ounce of knowledge.

21 I concur. If she testified under oath
22 that, you know what, I -- I've used it in the past;
23 I've had a problem myself, or I read some articles; I 24 was aware that there was issues here, and I went and 25 got my hair done, and I never told him that day, or I

Page 30

1 knew that there was a potential that their child
2 could somehow get burned because of his activity,
3 that's -- that goes to the merits --

4 THE COURT: How are these things lit?

5 MR. LEARY: They're lit by pouring the 6 gel into the container. And once the gel is in the 7 container, you light the gel.

8 THE COURT: How do you light the gel?

9 MR. LEARY: With a match, lighter,
10 anything that could ignite it. And then, as --

11 THE COURT: But it doesn't -- what? Do 12 you drop the match in --

13 MR. LEARY: No, you --

14 THE COURT: -- or do you use one of 15 those things -- you use, like, a wand?

16 MR. LEARY: You can use a wand. You can 17 use -- you could put a match right on it, or you 18 could use a -- you know, one those long things that 19 you might light a gas grill with.

20 I -- again, we don't know how 21 Mr. Magagnoli lit it that day. We don't know, you 22 know, what -- under what circumstances they -- I'm 23 finding out today for the first time that he didn't 24 use it for over a year and a half after it was gifted
25 to him. I didn't know that, but it really doesn't go

1 to the merits here, except for the fact there was no
2 communications that -- that this court has to look 3 at.

4 Are there any objective facts that would 5 suggest a reasonable basis under the law to support a 6 claim under Restatement 388? Because that's their 7 only claim.

8 There are no objective facts. If there 9 were, it would have been the first page of 10 Mr. Kwass's brief: Your Honor, a question; did she 11 know; did she not know; here's what I elicited from 12 her.

13 He did his best. He prodded -- poked
14 and pried, but there was nothing that came out of 15 that deposition.

16 THE COURT: So there was a recall, 17 though.

18 MR. LEARY: There was a recall.

19 THE COURT: And Wegmans was notified of 20 the recall?

21 MR. LEARY: Absolutely.

22 THE COURT: But Wegmans didn't notify 23 its customers?

24 MR. LEARY: It did, sure. It sent it 25 out.

Page 32

1 THE COURT: What do you mean?

2 MR. LEARY: They called -- they either
3 called or sent a letter.

4 THE COURT: Well, now, wouldn't that be 5 evidence she knew there was a recall?

6 MR. LEARY: She -- there was no
7 notification whatsoever that she had been notified of 8 a recall.

9 There is an issue. She apparently had 10 two different lines of information that she gave to 11 Wegmans regarding her contact information. The -- 12 what she initially signed up for was under her 13 daughter's name, and --

14 But there's no information from her
15 whatsoever that there was notification of the recall 16 or anything to do with the -- any dangers or defects 17 with the product.

18 THE COURT: So its Wegmans' position
19 that they tried to contact her, but she didn't get 20 it?

21 MR. LEARY: Yeah. Wegmans put up a sign 22 in the store. Wegmans tried to contact anyone on 23 their -- on the distribution list that appeared to 24 have bought a product. And they may have -- I don't 25 know if they sent a mailer. I don't think they did.

1 I think it was by communication by phone. So --

2 THE COURT: Well, even if they sent a
3 mailer, it would be somebody on their mailing list,
4 right?

5 MR. LEARY: Right. And she may not have 6 been on it because she had used her daughter's card.

7 THE COURT: Right.

8 MR. LEARY: So --

9 THE COURT: But do you need a card, or 10 what do you mean?

11 MR. LEARY: You have, like, a
12 Wegmans' -- you can use a -- it's like a Costco card.

13 THE COURT: But you don't have to have 14 one?

15 MR. LEARY: No.

16 THE COURT: I could walk into --

17 MR. LEARY: No.

18 THE COURT: -- Wegmans today and --

19 MR. LEARY: Right. And --

20 THE COURT: -- pay cash.

21 MR. LEARY: And if you paid cash, there 22 would be no way for us to notify you. There would be 23 no way to -- for us to track you, that you had bought 24 it, you know, a year before or two years before.

25 And so you have -- every single comment,

1 Your Honor, to 388 -- I don't want to beat a dead
2 horse, but there is a necessary requirement. And -- 3 and if they had offered anything or elicited
4 anything, you know, on pure conjecture at this point, 5 that she had notice to put her in that position to 6 tell the Magagnolis, either the day she gifted it or 7 15 months later, then I would certainly suggest that 8 maybe there is an objectionable fact at issue here.

9 But having done that and having taken 10 the testimony of her and covered every single one of 11 the elements of their Complaint verbatim just so I 12 didn't miss anything allows us to put forward a 13 record, Your Honor, that hasn't been refuted, not 14 only on the facts but, certainly, the case law. The 15 brief is silent on the case law issue.

16 All right. Thank you.

17 THE COURT: Thank you.

18 Five minutes.

19 MR. MONGELUZZI: Yes, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: No more than five minutes.

21 MR. MONGELUZZI: Thank you, Your Honor.

22 I guess I was somewhat startled by 23 Mr. Leary's comment, I don't think they sent or 24 mailed the recall; I'm not sure.

25 They want this court to declare that we

1 filed a frivolous lawsuit against her when they can't 2 even articulate and answer Your Honor's question
3 about whether or not you contacted her for a recall.

4 THE COURT: Well, the word -- the word
5 "frivolous" in this setting just means without merit.
6 It doesn't -- I don't think it means the -- you know, 7 I don't think it means what people generally think of 8 as frivolous.

9 MR. MONGELUZZI: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: So I think the issue is, is 11 there any relevant evidence that somebody can find 12 liability against the defendant?

13 MR. MONGELUZZI: Sure. The -- and -- 14 and I'll [indiscernible] this. I don't think there's 15 any doubt under 388 if -- under 388, we have to prove 16 that the defendant knew or should have known about 17 the information.

18 If she got the box and didn't give the 19 box to the plaintiffs, that's about as clear a 20 violation of 388 as you can get, because this is -- 21 has the only --

22 THE COURT: His point is there's no
23 evidence she got the box.

24 MR. MONGELUZZI: They denied that they 25 sold it without the box and the packaging.

Page 36

1 So now, imagine me. I'm in -- the 2 plaintiff. They denied --

3 THE COURT: No, that's -- that's not 4 what he said.

5 MR. LEARY: That's not what I said.

6 MR. MONGELUZZI: That's what their 7 Answer says.

8 THE COURT: He said she denied it.

9 MR. LEARY: It's the Complaint. That 10 was a different section of the Complaint, Bob. It 11 wasn't to Wegmans.

12 MR. MONGELUZZI: It was. 69R.

13 By the way, I was somewhat puzzled when 14 you said 69R --

15 Pardon my back, Your Honor.

16 -- isn't --

17 MR. LEARY: Is under what count?

18 MR. MONGELUZZI: Count 6, negligence.
19 Plaintiffs Magagnoli v. the Wegmans defendants, 69R,
20 selling, supplying, and distributing the firepot
21 without its packaging which contained warnings.

22 MR. LEARY: Can we just, for the 23 record -- because maybe I'm reading the wrong one,
24 Bob. I might be. But I -- I had Count 4, strict 25 product liability.

Page 37

1 MR. MONGELUZZI: I'm -- I am here.

2 MR. LEARY: And I have 69R. This is 3 Count 6, negligence. 69R.

4 MR. MONGELUZZI: Selling, supplying, and 5 distributing the firepot. We made that --

6 MR. LEARY: [Indiscernible.]

7 MR. MONGELUZZI: -- allegation against 8 Wegmans. They denied it. I'm now in a position
9 where Wegmans says, we sold it with the packaging.
10 Ms. Magagnoli says, they didn't sell it with the 11 packaging.

12 They want Your Honor to conclude as a 13 matter of law with that factual predicate -- to 14 accept one version and not the other version and 15 without giving us any opportunity to depose them on 16 this.

17 So I just want to turn to the legal 18 standard of 388, because I didn't address it.

19 We have to prove that the defendant
20 had -- knows or has reason to know that the chattel 21 was likely to be dangerous for the use which it is 22 supplied, no reason to believe those for who the use 23 of the chattel was supplied will realize its 24 dangerous condition, and fails to exercise reasonable 25 care to inform that of that dangerous condition.

1 That's not giving them the box, because 2 that -- if they have the box, they have the 3 information, and my clients don't.

4 I note that Mr. Leary in his papers
5 says -- under comment G, he highlights this. The 6 duty which the rules stated in this section imposes 7 upon a supplier of chattel for another's use is to 8 exercise reasonable care to give to those who were to 9 use the chattel the information which the supplier 10 possesses.

11 That information would be the box and 12 the snuffer lid, and there is an open factual 13 question, as we've pled, as to whether or not that 14 was supplied by Wegmans to Ms. Mardouchoc and whether 15 she gave it to our clients.

16 Lastly, Your Honor, you asked him,
17 what -- did you sell this without the top? And 18 Mr. Leary's response was, even if we sold it without 19 the top, that's not relevant.

20 Wegmans hasn't even come in here today,
21 when you've asked him specifically and repeatedly,
22 and said, on the record, let me tell you, we sold it 23 without the box; we sold it without the warnings and 24 instructions; and we sold it without the snuffer lid.

25 THE COURT: Well, if he sold it without

COLLOQUY

1 the top, it would not necessarily be relevant as to 2 her, because she wouldn't know whether or not a top 3 is supposed to be on it.

4 MR. MONGELUZZI: If she had the box, she 5 would know that, Your Honor, because the box shows
6 the top. So --

7 THE COURT: But I think my question was 8 focused, like, if it really is on the shelf wrapped 9 with something, is there a top on it or not? I 10 mean -- so --

11 MR. MONGELUZZI: Those are all open 12 questions and just highlight why the claim that we 13 fraudulently joined Ms. Mardouchoc should fail.

14 Thank you, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. I
16 mean -- and I agree that, yes, if there was a box, 17 someone would know there would be a top.

18 MR. MONGELUZZI: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: I agree -- I agree with your 20 point. I didn't want to cut you off there.

21 All right. Very interesting argument,
22 gentlemen. Thank you. I'll take the matter under 23 advisement, and I'll render a decision --

24 MR. MONGELUZZI: Oh, Your Honor -- I'm
25 sorry, Your Honor. I meant to say one thing.

1 In the alternative, if Your Honor is 2 considering not remanding this case, we would at 3 least like the opportunity, since there are contested 4 issues -- which we believe that, in and of itself,
5 should compel remand -- to have a targeted 30-day
6 opportunity to depose Wegmans and to depose Bird
7 Brain on those issues.

8 We believe that it is ripe for remand,
9 but if Your Honor has doubt about those, that would 10 be our alternative.

11 Thank you, Your Honor.

12 MR. LEARY: I have no objection. I'll 13 be glad to produce a Wegmans person to discuss 14 whether the product that was sold on their shelves 15 came with packaging or not.

16 THE COURT: Somebody from that 17 particular store?

18 MR. LEARY: Sure. I can try to find 19 some other store, but someone --

20 THE COURT: Is there somebody from Bird
21 Brain to depose?

22 MR. LEARY: Well, it wouldn't really
23 matter, to be honest with you. If he wants to depose
24 Bird Brain, they can. It's not going to get him 25 anywhere, because Bird Brain could say, we sent

1 Wegmans the packaging. It's up to what Wegmans did.
2 But if he wants to depose Bird Brain, there is 3 someone that's still there.

4 THE COURT: Now, why don't they have 5 counsel? Is there an indemnity agreement?

6 MR. LEARY: I think they've gone out of 7 business.

8 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

9 MR. LEARY: So, Your Honor, if you've 10 got -- if you want to take that under consideration, 11 I can work with counsel and try to track someone 12 down. Most likely, they're going to be in Rochester, 13 but we can do it by phone.

14 If there's something that will allow 15 this court further information to determine if 16 Ms. Mardouchoc --

17 THE COURT: I don't think it would be 18 necessary to depose Bird Brain initially. If I would 19 do that, I would order you depose somebody from 20 Wegmans within 30 days. And, then, if you would show 21 ample reason why, after that, you'd still need to 22 depose somebody from Bird Brain for this reason or 23 purpose only, you know, then I would allow it.

24 MR. MONGELUZZI: Yes, Your Honor.

25 MR. LEARY: That's fine.

Page 42

1 THE COURT: All right. So I'm going to 2 review the pleadings again and the Restatement and 3 your briefs, and I'll render a decision.

4 Thank you.

5 MULTIPLE SPEAKERS: Thank you, Your
